

NEIGHBOURHOOD PROFILE - DUNBAR-SOUTHLANDS

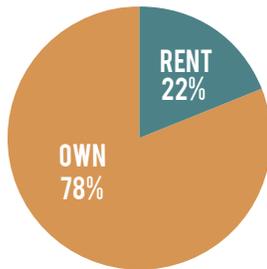

Nestled in the Southwest corner of Vancouver, Dunbar-Southlands has a town-and-country feel. Old trees arch over quiet residential streets, and a number of small storefronts along Dunbar Street have been established for more than 50 years. Bordered by 2,000 acres of forest to the West and equestrian acreages, urban farms, and golf courses along the Fraser River to the South, there is no shortage of nature here.

Dunbar-Southlands is one of the city's lowest-density neighbourhoods and consists almost exclusively of single-family homes and duplexes. A great sense of community exists here - where public events and festivals, garage sales, and block parties are commonplace.

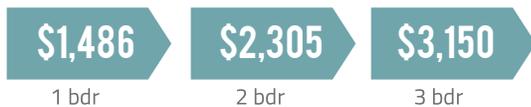

HOUSING

OWN VS. RENT

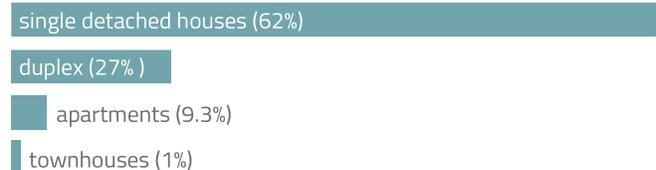

AVERAGE MONTHLY RENT

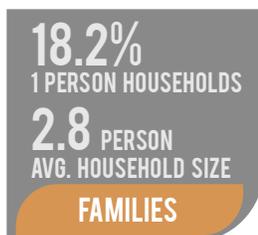

MEDIAN SOLD PRICE

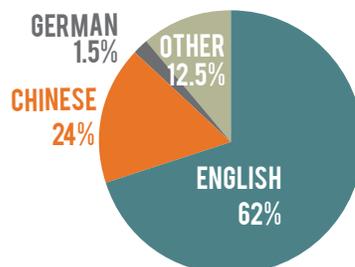

DWELLING TYPE

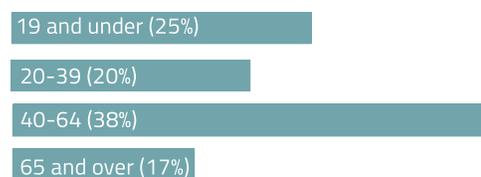

DEMOGRAPHICS

MOTHER TONGUE

AGE GROUPS

PUBLIC SCHOOLS

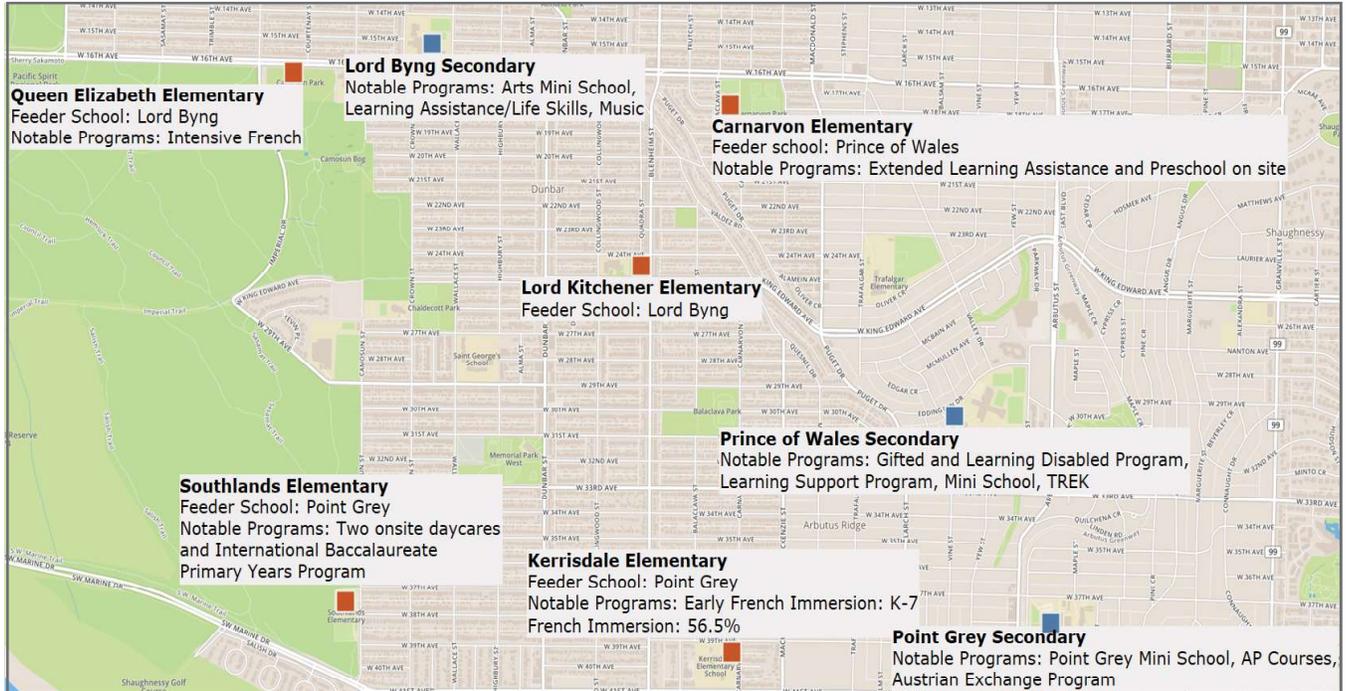

Photo credit: Kassandra Darbel

Photo credit: Kassandra Darbel

Photo credit: Kassandra Darbel

Photo credit: Kassandra Darbel